A SAFE REMEDY FOR ALL SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES

If you suffer from any disease due to an impure state of the blood, such as eczema, scurf, skin eruptions, etc., you should test the value of Clarke's Blood Mixture, the world-famous Blood Purifier and Restorer. This medicine has 40 years' reputation, and is today more popular than ever, the reason of this being undoubtedly because this wonderful remedy does what it professes to do—IT CURES SKIN AND BLOOD DISEASES PERMANENTLY.

Clarke's Blood Mixture

IS THE PINEST BLOOD PURIFIER EVER DISCOVERED.

It is warranted to cleanse the blood from all impurities, from whatever cause arising. For SCURF, BAD LEGS, SOREY, ECHYMOSES, SPOTS, BLOOD POISON, BLACKHEADS, PIMPLES, and ULCERS, SKIN & BLOOD DISEASES, KINDS.

It is a safe and Permanent Remedy. It is the only real specific for Gout and Rheumatic Pains, for it removes the cause from the Blood and Bones.

NOTE. This mixture is pleasant to the taste and WARRANTED FREE FROM ANYTHING INJURIOUS TO THE MOST DELICATE CONSTITUTION of either sex, from infancy to old age, and the Proprietors solicit witnesses to give it a trial to test its value. Thousands of wonderful cures have been effected by it.

TRIED MANY THINGS WITHOUT BENEFIT UNTIL I TOOK CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE. Mr. F. E. Lewis, 48, Bridge Street, New, Chester, writes:—Just a line in favour of "Clarke's Blood Mixture." I had eczema for seven months, and tried many things without benefit until I took your remedy. After the eighth bottle I was quite well again. Please accept this letter as a token of gratitude to your wonderful "Clarke's Blood Mixture."—June 18, 1903.

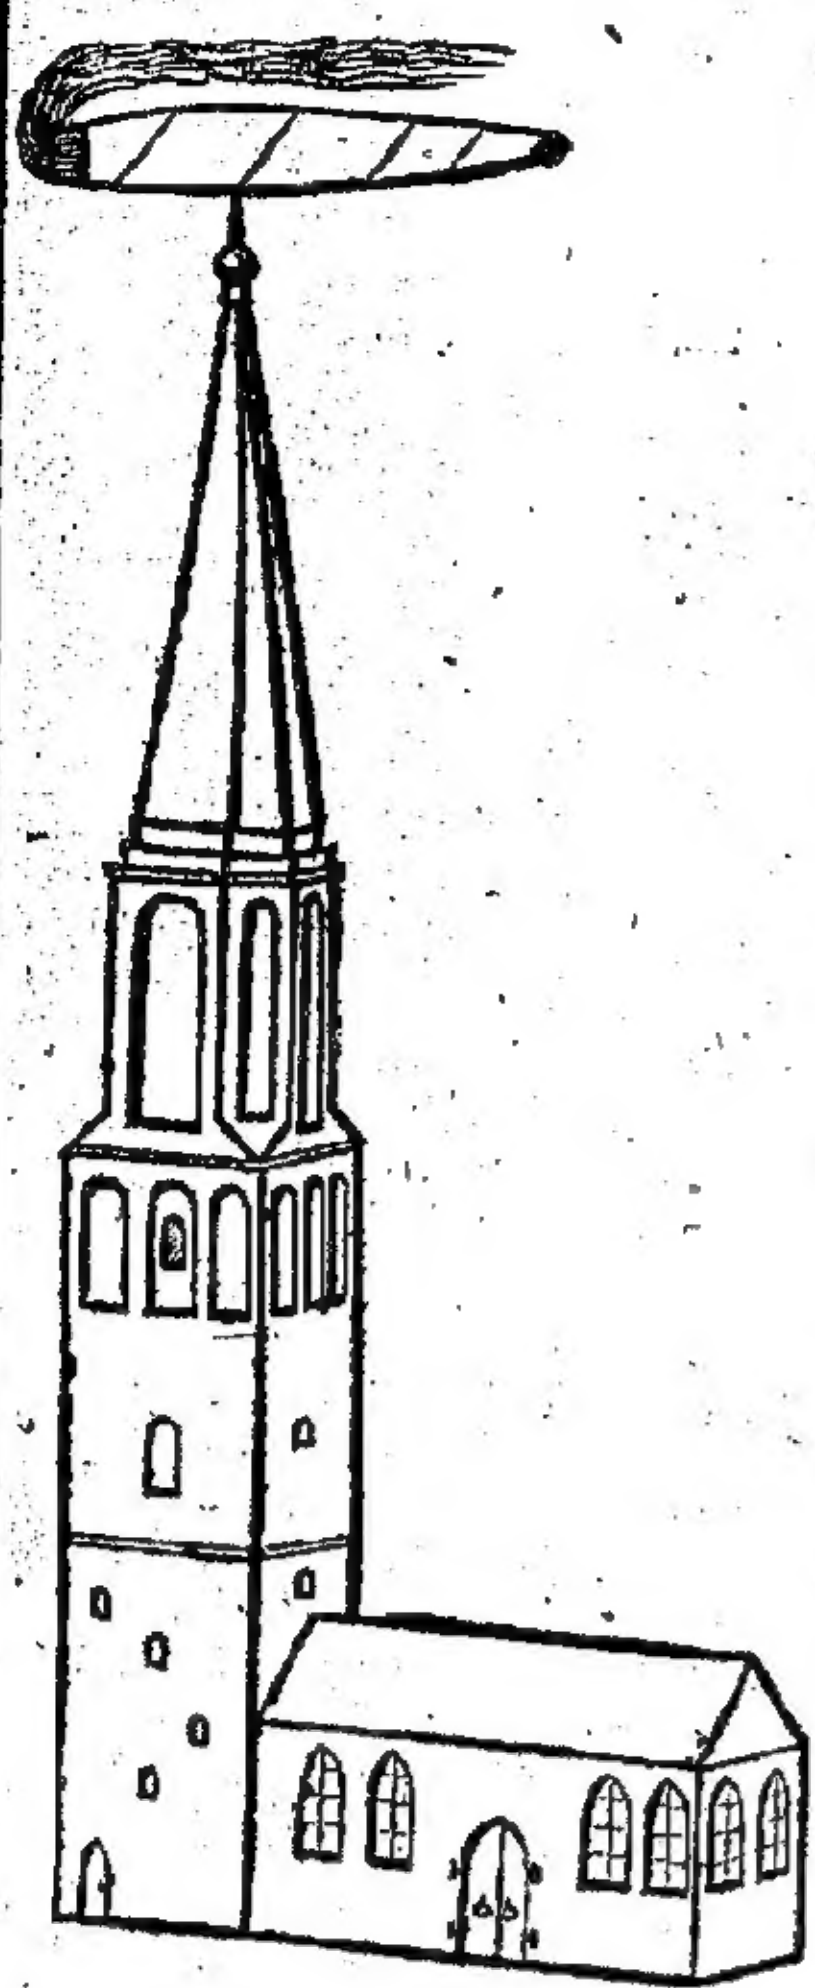

IMPROVING THE BLOOD.—We have seen hundreds of letters from all sorts and conditions of people, in which the writers acknowledge the benefit they have received from Clarke's Blood Mixture, which as a curative agent cannot be too highly estimated, since it cleanses and clears the blood from all impurities, and restores it to its normal condition. This is a good testimonial from the Family Doctor, the popular medical weekly, which goes on further to say:—"It is certainly the finest blood purifier that science and skill have brought to light, and we can with the utmost confidence recommend it to our subscribers and public generally."

Sold by all Chemists and Patent Medicine Vendors throughout the World.

Ask for - CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE and beware of worthless imitations and substitutes.

RED SUNDAY.

The papers to hand by the last mail bring full accounts of the terrible doings in St. Petersburg on that fatal Sunday in January when the people of Russia learned with horror the true character of the 'Little Father' whom they had been taught to revere.

Sunday the 22nd of January will live in history with a sinister reputation. It was the fourth anniversary of the death of Queen Victoria—and therefore, now that the pain of that loss has passed away, welcome as marking the completion of a fourth year of the reign of Edward VII. But its import does not depend on anniversaries.

On that day Louise Michel was laid in the grave, the heroine of the Commune, the Red Maid of revolution, and simultaneously the fire of revolt broke out in St. Petersburg. Tsardom had its last chance and flung it away.

Between Revolt and Repression there was still open a third way; Conciliation.

If a deputation of strikers had been met by the Tsar, all might still have been well. But the bureaucracy willed otherwise, and for the moment the victory was with repression, or at least that is what the world was given to understand. But the fire smouldered and persistently breaks out into violent flame and we hear, as we do to-day, of bloody riots in Warsaw, or Moscow or some other city. The bureaucracy would have the world believe that they are still masters in Russia. But are they? General Trepoff, tyrant and villain, is in command of St. Petersburg, representing Grand Duke Vladimir and the invisible Tsar, and the end is not yet? Rather we see only the beginning. For there is this difference between the forces of rebellion and those of restraint, that the former can afford to lose battle after battle while the latter need be defeated only once. During the wild carnage of Red Sunday all press censorship was for the moment at an end. Correspondents telegraphed what they would, and the veil was lifted for at least four and twenty hours. Now the curtain has again fallen and it is only occasional glimpses that we get beneath.

But those glimpses are sufficient to prove that throughout the length and breadth of Russia men are in open revolt against tyranny, and the echo of the storm will assuredly reach the Shaho where the sons and brothers of the victims are penned up with General Kuropatkin awaiting their call to the shambles of another battle in a cause for which they care nothing, and with a foe who is a twelve month of unvarying success has made doubly formidable.

Yesterday we published the gist of an article on the war by the famous German strategist. He believes the Russians will yet be victorious. He reckoned without the Tsar, who is now fighting the relatives of the men whom he expects to fight for him. Every endeavor will be made to keep from the troops the awful intelligence from the cities of Russia, but murder, though it hath no tongue, will speak with most miraculous organ, as Shakespeare tells us, and it will be seen that before long the men at the front will know full well that there are other battles being fought but those with the Japanese. What the result will then be remains to be seen. It is almost certain that the men will not offer the stout and successful resistance to the Japanese that Colonel Gaedke believes.

Mr. A. G. Ward, who is leaving shortly for Shanghai, will be tendered a concert by the Philharmonic Society on Saturday next at the City Hall.

So far we have not heard many stories regarding the race. One comes to our ears, however, of a spectator who went to the part-mutuel and bought a ticket. In a moment of forgetfulness he went to the wrong department, and was handed a ticket for a rank outsider. He protested, and desired to exchange, but the obdurate Chinaman's 'no change' was final, and the purchaser went away swearing. When the race was over he found that he had unwittingly become possessed of a ticket which participated in a big dividend. And the man says he is not lucky!

A correspondent writes:—'They were discussing the percentage which would be proper in order not to rob one's neighbors. As it so happened Israel Masenstein passed at the time, and on hearing the word percentage, he, characteristic of the Jew, pricked up his ears. He approached the two men and asked them to inform him on the subject of the argument. Having been told, he casually remarked that he only made 5 per cent on his goods.

'What,' exclaimed one of the party 'only 5 per cent. How do you manage to live?'

'Well,' said the Jew, perhaps I am mistaken, but when I buy an article for $1 I generally manage to sell it for $5.11

Hence his 5 per cent profit. Is this characteristic of the Hongkong tradesman, and the dollar so good?'

'And what did you go to?' The question was asked to-day, by an inquisitive resident, of a prominent shipping man who had been to the fancy dress ball.

'Well, I—ah—I went—my wife fixed me up.'

'But surely you went as some character, what was it?' persisted the inquisitive one.

'Yes—ah—I had on a pair of high heeled shoes—ah—I had to cut the—ah—heels off with an axe at the City Hall,' explained the shipper to the accompaniment of laughter.

'But what was the role you went in?'

'Yes,' tell us the role, another interested listener ejaculated, 'don't be modest!'

'My forefathers—um—ah—I was a sort of a gentleman—of the—um—17th century,' was the hesitant reply.

'Oh,' exclaimed the listeners, amidst much laughter, 'you were a buccaner?'

The shipping man was sorry he mentioned his forefathers, and his attempt to explain the matter away was naturally abortive.

A member of the Australian House of Representatives contrived a very ingenious question which he asked the Postmaster-General on Dec. 9:—'I desire to ask the Postmaster-General whether, in view of the fact that the P. and O. Company permit passengers to travel to England first-class, and to occupy the very best of the cabins, and to carry 10 cwt. of luggage, for the sum of £27, and that the company will charge at poundage rates £201 for 10 cwt. of letters, he will make such arrangements that members of Parliament may be franked by the department to England on the understanding that they take as personal luggage 10 cwt. of letters, thus enabling the department to save £123 on every half-ton of letters sent to England, and at the same time to permit members to visit England, thus cementing the bonds of empire?'

The Postmaster-General's reply was that the Government would be only too glad to help members of the Opposition to go to England 'after the recess.'

LOCAL AND COAST NEWS.

A Test Case.

An interesting test case is to come before Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz at the Magistrate's court on Thursday next when Messrs. Rombard Lowther and Company are being summoned by the Water Police under the Merchants Shipping Act. The defendants are contesting the case on the grounds that being Admiralty contractors they are not compelled to comply with local laws while the police desire to secure to the Government the revenue that they would have to contribute by doing so.

Intermittent Water Supply.

Residents are reminded that, according to a notice which appears in our business columns, only an intermittent water supply will be available from the public mains on and after Monday next, until further rain is received. In the city below Cause Road the water will be turned on from 6 a.m. until 10 a.m., the Peak to Victoria Gap from 6 a.m. to 7 a.m., Victoria Gap to Plantation Road from 7 a.m. to 8.45 a.m. and in other districts as advertised.

Fancy Dress Ball.

The fancy dress ball held in the City Hall last evening was a brilliant success from every point of view. The costumes were many and varied, and most of them were strikingly effective. It is said to have been the best ball of its kind held here for a long while. The names of the hosts are as follows:—Sir Paul Chater, Hon. Mr. W. J. Gresson, Hon. Mr. R. Shewan, Messrs. R. Fahriann, A. Haupt, J. L. Houston, H. W. Looker, E. Owen, G. H. Potts, A. G. Stokes, J. B. M. Smith, and H. P. White.

VERY palatable, even children enjoy to take it, but it is Storax Wine, not the others. Far better than any emulsion.

Death of an Old Resident.

The funeral took place this morning of Mr. F. W. Heumann, of Messrs. Heumann, Hurst and Co. Mr. Heumann was one of the oldest residents of the Colony, having first arrived here over fifty years ago. He took a great interest in Masonic affairs, being a member of the District Grand Lodge, also a Past-master of Zetland Lodge. A good number of old friends attended the ceremony at the grave side, and a large number of wreaths were sent. Deceased was in his 60th year at the time of his death.

A Fatal Fire.

A fire occurred early on the morning of the 22nd instant in a dwelling house at No. 21 Childen Street, Tai Kok Tsui, which has been attended by fatal results. It is not known how the outbreak originated but when the inmates of the house woke up they were already surrounded by flames, a small-footed woman and her daughter being severely burnt before they could effect their escape, which they subsequently did by the latter carrying her mother out on her back. They were both taken to the Government Civil Hospital where the elder woman has since died. The Yumaiti fire brigade turned out but were severely handicapped by the distance from which they had to pump water, 2000 feet of hose being necessary. No. 21 sustained considerable damage and No. 20 and 22 also suffered a little.

ZYMOTIC TOOTH POWDER a perfect antiseptic dentifrice, cleanses and preserves the teeth,—very refreshing.

A TIMELY SUGGESTION.—This is the season of the year when the prudent and careful housewife replenishes her supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is certain to be needed before the winter is over, and results are much more prompt and satisfactory when it is kept at hand and given so soon as the cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system. In almost every instance a severe cold may be warded off by taking this remedy freely as soon as the first indication of the cold appears. There is no danger in giving it to children for it contains no harmful substance. It is pleasant to take—both adults and children like it. Buy it and you will get the best. It always cures. Sold by All Dealers; WATKINS & Co., Ltd., General Agents.

TERRIBLE SCENES IN ST. PETERSBURG.

Mob Fired on by Troops.

Hundreds Killed and Wounded.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 22.

St. Petersburg awoke this morning to find itself in a state of siege. A more perfect and lovely day never dawned. There were five degrees of frost. The air was crisp and invigorating and the sky almost cloudless. The gilded domes of the cathedrals and the churches and the frost-encrusted roofs and facades of the houses, brilliantly illuminated by the sun, formed a superb panorama as I looked out of the hotel windows, wondering what the day would bring forth.

Already a crowd of many thousands had collected, but was prevented from entering the Palace Square by mounted troops drawn up across each thoroughfare. Presently the masses began to press forward threateningly. The cavalry advanced at a walking pace, scattering the people right and left. Ere long a successful event with such bewildering rapidity that the public staggered and staggered beyond expression. Down to the last moment no one seemed to believe that anything serious was likely to happen. Clinging to their traditional trust in the efficiency of the knot, people thrugged their shoulders and said that there would probably be a few scuffles, but that the demonstrators would be easily dispersed.

Within a space of two hours the city has been plunged into a state of open revolution.

The first trouble began at 11 o'clock, when the military tried to turn back some thousands of Putiloff strikers at one of the bridges connecting the island, which is the great industrial quarter, with the central portions of the city. The same thing happened almost simultaneously at other bridges, where the constant flow of workmen pressing forward refused to be denied access to the common rendezvous in the Palace Square. The Cossacks at first used their knouts, then the flat of their sabres, and finally they fired.

The strikers in the front ranks fell on their knees and implored the Cossacks to let them pass, protesting that they had no hostile intentions. They refused, however, to be intimidated by blank cartridges, and orders were given to load with ball.

The passions of the mob broke loose like a bursting dam. The people, seeing the dead and dying carried away in all directions, the snow on the streets and pavements soaked with blood, cried aloud for vengeance.

Meanwhile, the situation at the Palace was becoming momentarily worse. The troops were reported to be unable to control the vast masses which were constantly surging forward. Reinforcements were sent, and at 2 o'clock here also the order was given to fire. Men, women, and children fell at each volley, and were carried away in ambulances, sledges, and carts. It was no longer a workman's question. The indignation and fury of every class were aroused. Students, merchants, all classes of the population alike were inflamed. At the moment of writing firing is going on in every quarter of the city.

Father Gapon, marching at the head of a large body of workmen, carrying a cross and other religious emblems, was wounded in the arm and shoulder.

The two forces of workmen are now separated. Those on the other side of the river are arming with swords, knives, and smiths and carpenters' tools, and are busy erecting barricades.

Several officers have been severely injured on the Nerakly Prospect. Their swords were taken from them and their epaulettes torn off. Panic and consternation reigned supreme. The troops are apparently reckless, firing right and left with or without reason. The rioters continue to appeal to reason, saying 'You are Russians! Why play the part of bloodthirsty butchers? As the killed and wounded are borne away, men reverently raise their caps and many shout 'Hurrah! Well done!' in honour of those strikers.

The crowd coming from Vassili Ostrov was stopped by a strong military force of infantry, Uhlans, and Cossacks. The leaders of the strikers appealed to the soldiers not to fire on their brothers. The infantry laid down their rifles, but the Uhlans and the Cossacks, obeying orders, drove the mob back with their gunfire, wounding many. A military band played while the conflict was proceeding.
